Of Men, Machines, Material, and Money - With National Service from All and Profits to None!
TOTAL WAR STRATEGY DEMANDS DESIGNED DIRECTION

THE CONFLICT OF WORLD EVENTS compels the United States to install immediately the designed direction of the strategy of total war or face disaster.

The United States must efficiently install at once a complete mobilization of all the resources of its national entirety.

This designed direction of national operations cannot be attained if America permits business and party politics to dominate the administration of the defense of America.

America must realize that in this age of technology the methods and practices of history cherished by the upholders of the Price System are incompetent to operate a Continent under the demands of total war. The facilities of yesterday's success have suddenly become the futilities of today and the defeat of tomorrow. The structure of America's economy demands that we Americans abandon the haphazard conflict of private and group interest in order that we may win this world war and thereby defeat the enemies of America and win the peace for America.

Men do not create events; events create men. Today's crisis necessitates that America call upon the ability and statesmanship capable of installing the technological and social mobilization required for victory.

Technocracy makes the unequivocal statement that such ability and statesmanship do not exist amongst the party politicians and business leaders of America. Technocracy charges that the business leadership of America lacks the vision to design and install a Continental operation of total war, and that such vision cannot possibly stem from the nicayune confines of private business and party politics.

Technocracy charges that America must abolish immediately all production for profit at a price, and substitute in its place the engineering design of production for the technological operation of the strategy of a Continental offensive.

Technocracy asks: How many disasters will America have to suffer before it installs the design now called for by the march of events?
